Contractors, have you thought about what should you expect from your accountant?

The biggest mistakes made by contractors within the construction industry are inaccurate cost planning, lack of written contract, erroneous cost allocation and failing to recognise the loss of a contract within the period the loss has been determined.

With 15+ years' experience working within the industry, PREVAIL are specialists within construction accountancy and CIS, applying our sector expertise to help clients grow.

At PREVAIL we work very closely with our clients and their in-house teams, adding value to their businesses. Through a combination of regular face-to-face consultancy and cloud technology we work in collaboration with our clients to help keep control of expenditure on materials, labour, tools and equipment for the duration of the project.

Ours is a first-class service, tailored to meet the needs of each and every client. We aim to be an asset to your business, establishing ourselves as a long-term collaborative partner and adding value every step of the way.

With a wealth of construction sector experience, PREVAIL has provided accountancy services to main contractors, sub-contractors, tradespeople and property developers of all shape and sizes.

Our careful and collaborative work with business planning, budgeting and forecasting, profitability, setting KPIs and regular performance reviews enable us to make sure you get on track and stay on track, or simply improve.

"I believe that by working together as a team, we can face challenges head-on, set achievable goals and constantly improve our skills and business outcome."

Catherine Machalinski
Founder & Director of PREVAIL

PREVAIL can provide you with:

Job Costing: We pride ourselves on continuous improvement. We will help you to define the processes within your organisation and allocate costs accordingly, defining key performance indicators and measuring them effectively.

Cost Control: Cost control will enable your organisation to identify unnecessary costs and explore possible sources of income.

Cash Flow Management: It's very nice to receive a positive profit and loss report but if there is no cash in the bank all we can do is frame a nice decoration for your wall!

"Catherine's in depth knowledge and experience of the construction industry is extremely valuable, but above all it is her hands-on, personal approach to her clients that makes her stand out from the crowd. It is this ongoing support that has enabled us to experience the high levels of success and growth that we have achieved since starting the business."
